

Mobile Multiphase Production Measurement Services

The new business mode of MPFM utilization for mobile production well testing service was initially put forward and implemented by Haimo. Instead of clients needing to buy equipment and hire technical crew, Haimo provides a custom-built package including equipment and crew for mobile well testing to cover all the production wells of a field or block. The generated accurate and timely well data serves the client's need of reservoir monitoring, well management and production optimization.

Advantages

Instead of buying equipment, clients "buy" data, and the process to acquire well data is highly simplified;

With competent professional technical personnel and strict conforming to the vendor's "Data Quality Control Process", the data quality operation efficiency is guaranteed;

Equipment and personnel respond promptly and mobilize quickly;

Ideal for remote locations
